In the quiet moments of the day
The worries of the world, fade away
I can hear your voice, it speaks to me
And I hang on every word you say
In those moments it's so clear to me
The more I'm in your presence Lord,
The more that i believe
You are my life
You are my breath
You are holiness
But you take me as I am
You are my strength
You are my peace
You're my everything
You're the only thing that matters, to me
There are times my mind cannot explain
Just what happens when I say your name
It's like I've been away and all along
And I see you standing there and I know that I am home
Cuz you are
You are my life
You are my breath
You are holiness
But you take me as I am
You are my strength
You are my peace
You're my everything
You're the only thing that matters, to me
So many voices fighting to be heard
But you're my peacefulness
The place that i can, turn
Cuz you are
You are my life
You are my breath
You are holiness
But you take me as I am
You are my strength
You are my peace
You're my everything
You're the only thing that matters, to me
