Can't believe myself, don't know what to do
Such a foolish move to walk out on you
Now I'm stuck on sick trying to win you back
When all of this could have been avoided

If I had just told the truth about where I've been About what I needed, about what I'm in
When I said I'm feeling from more than you had Now more than anything I just need one more chance

I gotta get you back by any means
Back by any means, back by any means
I don't care what it takes, baby I'll do anything
I'll do anything, I'll do anything

You don't belong in the cold, you shouldn't be alone
Baby come back, this is your home

I gotta get you back by any means
Back by any means, back by any means
Back by any means

Woman, I can't lie to tell the truth
I've been sitting here in this room like why, why, why?

And I've come to the conclusion of what I need to do
Switch things up when it comes to you
Cut things off when it comes to me
That means do things differently

So I'm B E double G I N G U to C O M E
Back to J O E P L E A S E, please
Baby, don't you get it you are my addiction?
And I was your affliction, girl I learned my lesson

Now I want you back by any means
Back by any means, back by any means
I don't care what it takes, baby I'll do anything
I'll do anything, I'll do anything

You don't belong in the cold, you shouldn't be alone
Baby come back, this is your home

I gotta get you back by any means
Back by any means, back by any means
Back by any means

Baby just tell me where you are
And I'll come right now guess you know
I won't [Incomprehensible] letting you go

My biggest mistake so far
But I'm allowed a few of those
I swear I won't make no more
Tell me then we can start over

I'll do better, I won't never hurt your heart
Or do anything to pull us apart, I just wanna be closer
'Cause my greatest fear is waking up tomorrow
Without you being here

I want you back by any means
I want you back by any means
I want you back by any means
And I don't care what it takes baby I'll do anything
I'll do anything, I'll do anything

Hey, you don't belong in the cold, you shouldn't be alone
Baby come back, this is your home

I gotta get you back by any means
Back by any means
Gotta get you back by any means
By any means
