

Joe Bonamassa "The River"

Visit "The River" on MotoLyrics.com

I'm sick of nine to five I'm sick of living day to day so I had to hitch a ride to take me to the only place to listen to the sweet sounds of the river calling calling out to you

you know you'll come around things will turn around she'll be there for you listen to the sweet sounds of the river we used to go there all the time the time just seemed to slip away when I need to feel the love and let the troubles wash away listen to the sweet sounds of the river calling

calling out to you
you know you'll come around
things will turn around
she'll be there for you
listen to the sweet sounds of the river

listen to the sweet sounds of the river calling
calling out to you
you know you'll come around
things will turn around
she'll be there for you listen to the sweet sounds

listen to the sweet sounds of the river calling
calling out to you
you know you'll come around
things will turn around
she'll be there for you
listen to the sweet sounds of the river

Visit Joe Bonamassa page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

