[Joe Budden - Verse 1]

Something must've changed me, n-ggas might defame me

But things that used to taint me, no longer seem to restrain me

Strangely I'm no longer sad man or angry

Shame-ably it pains me, feeling like this just ain't me

Mainly what do I tell all the people that thanked me

Mainly those who ordain me, aside from can you blame
me

Motivation they was supplying me no longer providing
me

Jason Williams something killed whatever was driving
me

Worrying less about the past more about the now

Less about what I'm going though more about the how

It's for certain it's been 30 years being fit for hurting

Now I'm a different person with nohing to overcome in the mist of burdens

For certain, got 6 figures in my sock drawer

And honestly this year I expect to make a lot more

It's hard to live without a budget when life is corrupted

In a house thats so peaceful that I'm trying to disrupt it

Scream f**k it not because I have to but because I love it

Which makes me as fake as the puppets that I speak of disgusted

Without a paddle up sh-t's creek

Dig deep and see it ain't life it's just me

So be warned as I'm putting on like I'm deformed

Only so y'all can accept it as being my norm

Maybe I quit working on me, maybe I given up

Maybe I been lying to myself maybe I give a f-ck.

[Chorus]

It's enough to make you black out, pull a mac out

Aim it at the sky while I'm running from a black cloud

Every day we playin cat and mouse as I watch it hoverin over my glass house

It's enough to make you spazz out, pull a mac out
Aim it at the sky while I'm running from a black cloud Tired enough for me to pass out, tired of running from the black cloud.

[Joe Budden - Verse 2]

I say it loud hoping someone can hear me clearly Trying to make my girl get it she don't know it's very scary
But she's a nympho she can come barely near me
She still want the God and i don't think she's mary mary
The prettiest bitches they just want to service me While n-ggas prettiest bitches wouldn't get a word from
me
Some of you haven't heard from me some of you wouldn't mind murking me Found that news funny likes its stright from Ron Burgundy
These n-ggas ain't never seen dough They can't dream though i bump into 'em in between shows
People say im emo what that really mean though Is though the song can't breathe I actually make it seem so I lost loved ones because they couldn't deal with me Cherish whoever still with me though the marriage be killed in me
Normally it's just me and my lonely mind Everyone storm is different so this forecast is only mine
Fans recognize my misery uplifted me Shifted me to my epitome, guess the curse is a gift to
me
Maybe its serendipity, maybe it's weighing on me physically
Maybe I should man up and tell GOD not to solicit me
Been medicated, meditated Sedated, hated Character assassinated, all theses years I masqueraded
Hard headed, if it was on my mind I had to say it Tongue on the devil's pitchfork to see how disaster tasted
Rap is fabricated, rappers are so exaggerated Wouldn't be scared of the truth if they weren't castrated
Grab a mag, spray it, surrounded by people to shoot it before me
Better unconditionally love my beautiful ugly Now lemme speak to who I cater to

Would you love me to say(or sang?), before my weeks were not favorable Promised to maintain being unique but relatable
All while suffering from a disease that could do away with you Poetry on the beat, spoken-word for the masses Therapy over pro-tools, every word is on acid Continents on Kush, every vowel is blunted Highly wanted this whole organization privately funded
This is bigger than the Eiffle, this is alert to public Had a cop us by our tunnels and our bridges with the rifle Sentences meant to stifle, this is a man aching
This is the damn breaking, contraband in the making
This is panic unveiling, got potential but I never met it
He be trying to come over, it seem like GOD won't let it Either he never got my invite or he jus dismissed it But if all I'm hearing are the sounds of blackness, why am I pessimistic?
You'll never progress if you'll never try
All I ask, let every word I birth, never die
My wings spread, but when I'm at the sky Weather didn't change like I thought and had me petrified.
[Chorus]
