Boy: "So many things that I want to say,
But I don't want to scare you away.

So many things use could do, if:
Wasn't so far away from you."

Girl: "You walk away."

Nararator: She kissed him until he cried
Broke his heart and then he died
She packed up and followed that old a-line
Where the colors fly.

Boy: "You walk away."

Girl: "Don't act so surprised, you can't hide behind
Those eyes, you do it to me every
Time, but I'm stepping out."

Boy: "I'm not that surprisd, I could see
Right through your eyes, I went along
For the ride, but I'm stepping out."
