What can you see in the daytime sky
What do you see in the sky at night
You've been taking cold showers everyday of your life
Looking for the lost parts since '89
Searching for the sun as it all flies by
I've gotta find the roadmaps before we can drive
We gather our stamps and say our goodbyes
We crank up our amps nearly every night
We gotta try our best not to fuss and fight

You gotta give up the 1/2s
And make room for the wholes
I can't afford to be mad at you 'cause
You're 1/2 of me.
