She comes walking, with a slow and easy step
She gets into my mind, so sweet and innocent
Glancing over, to see if you're with me
Slow breathes taken, leavce no one alone.

I will not, forget these days
I will not, forget this time.

The first day that I met you
I was looking in the sky,
The sun turned all a blur
And the thunder clouds rolled by,
You looked so cool and casual,
So I try and look the same,
But now I've got to love you, tell
Me who am I to blame.
