(Joe Dassin/Pat Deighan/Mike Wilsh)

I was walking down a street today and I saw a girl along the way
I asked to where she's going and she said "Come with me"
She took me down this avenue, where we met some friends she knew
And there we start and stopped awhile and passed the time away

Down the Champs-Élysées, down the Champs-
Élysées
Friday night, Saturday, any night or any day
You'll find what you're looking for on the Champs-
Élysées

Sitting in the small café, we heard the street musician play
Some waltzes on his accordeon all night long
He's playing sound wheezy but the melody was so easy
Now we all got up and join the man, we sang this song

Down the Champs-Élysées, down the Champs-
Élysées
Friday night, Saturday, any night or any day
You'll find what you're looking for on the Champs-
Élysées

Now the birds are cheeping and we all feel kinda sleepy
The morning sun has risen and the moon has gone
But still the feeling lingers and still I hear the singers
As I walked along the avenue and sing this song

Down the Champs-Élysées, down the Champs-
Élysées
Friday night, Saturday, any night or any day
You'll find what you're looking for on the Champs-
Élysées
Down the Champs-Élysées, down the Champs-
