(CHORUS)

Little red rented rowboat
Little red rented rowboat
Not much better than no boat
But at least it'll go
When I row, row, row
At least it'll go when I row

I saw two pretty girls
Sunbathing on a pier
They wore jeans
Way down to here

I waved, they waved
They said they'd like a ride
So I helped them climb inside
To share my

(CHORUS)

Along came a sailboat
Big enough for two
The skipper saw the girls
I knew what he would do

He waved and they waved
Then he helped them inside
Just one girl to ride
There in my

(CHORUS)

Hotrod motorboat
Roared up behind
The girl took a look
And I could read her mind

She waved and he waved

He helped her climb inside
Leaving me with wounded pride

One hour later
I saw them again
Motorboat out of gas
Sailboat out of wind

The girls waved and I waved
And then I passed them by
With my nose held way up high
Me and my
