You're all that you want to be
100% believe
Take it all in your stride
Doing your thing doing your thing

Now all of the world will see
How you're supposed to be
A heart that's built on fire
The heart that knows desire
The heart that knows desire

You run from tears that fill your eyes
You run from fire that burns inside

A story that is yet untold
A treasure just like pirates gold
Away from everyone
Waiting for a brand new dawn
So that day will come to those
But how it comes nobody knows
The heart that's built with fire
The heart that knows desire
The heart that knows desire

You run when you hear the bells that chime
You run from tears that wear inside
You run from things you cannot hide
You run from fire that burns inside

You're doing your thing doing your thing
You're doing your thing doing your thing
You're doing your thing doing your thing

You're all that you want to be
100% believe
A heart that's built on fire
The heart that knows desire
