I'm the luckiest man in this whole world
'Cause I got the love of a sweet little girl
Yeah, I'm as amazed as I can be
I swear, I don't see what she sees in me

Well, she could care less but she don't
She could say goodbye but she won't
Why she loves me, I'll never know
She could care less but she don't

Well, all I own is some rock bottom land
She oughta have diamonds on both of her hands
Now, I don't know why she hasn't left
Wouldn't blame her if she traded me for someone else

She could care less but she don't
She could say goodbye but she won't
Why she loves me, I'll never know
She could care less but she don't

She could care less but she don't
She could say goodbye but she won't
Why she loves me, I'll never know
She could care less but she don't

Why she loves me, I'll never know
She could care less but she don't
