Walking through the woods today
Walking hand-in-hand
Pooh and friends were on their way
On their way to nowhere planned
They stopped to look up at the trees
A hundred shades of green
Yet the colors blends across the land
Pooh and friends are just like trees
Each one is unique
Tigger dances as he pleases,
Piglet's small and often meek
Though Rabbit sometimes makes a fuss, they love him just the same
And they still love Owl when he takes too long to speak

Chorus:
Friends Around the World
All in harmony
Holding hands together side-by-side
Friends around the world
All varieties
Living underneath the same blue sky
Friends around the world

Is a special place, wherever there is Pooh While Eeyore shows a gloomy face, in his own way he's special too
And though they all have difference, as different as they are
They are best of friends through and through

Repeat Chorus once
