

Joe Stampley

"Whiskey Talkin'"

Visit "Whiskey Talkin'" on MotoLyrics.com

Whiskey Talkin'

Recorded by : Joe Stampley 1974

Written by: D. Darst — Carmol Taylor — Joe Stampley

Every time I think about the good love that we had.
I wonder why, I let it die, Lord I feel so bad.
A woman was a precious thing, she tried everyway
But I drank too much, and said some things I didn't mean to say.

And it was whiskey talkin' to her Lord, I swear it wasn't me.
But a man who drinks, he never thinks how it's gonna
be.
So my friend, if you have someone who, is waiting with her love,

Take my advice and leave tonight, it's you she thinking of
'Cause these old bar's leave their scars all over you and me
And it could be you tomorrow night, telling how it use to be.

'Cause it was whiskey talking to her Lord
I swear it wasn't me
But a man who drinks,
He never thinks how it's gonna be.

You know a man who drinks,
He never thinks
How things are gonna be.

Transcribed by: Bill O. Cain Sr.

Visit Joe Stampley page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.