Time went by so quickly
You were only 17
When you left you took a part of me
Took so much for granted
Can you hear me, can you see?
Something's making me believe
That I just wanna let you know

This was your time, you went away,
It seems the days are fading to night
But you'll be all right I know it
'Cause now I've got an angel watching me

On the road that morning
Took a while for me to feel
To figure out just what real
I tripped before I fell
A scream before a yell
Could you hear me?

'Cause I just wanna let you know
This was your time, you went away
It seems the days are fading to night
But you'll be all right, I know it
'Cause now I've got an angel watching me
This was your time, you went away
It seems the days are fading to night
But you'll be all right, I know it

'Cause now I've got an angel watching me

Give me faith, give me hope
Give me faith, give me hope
I've been searching for
The truth that lies behind the door you found
Do you keep your name?
Is it all the same in your new world
I just wanna let you know

This was your time, you went away
It seems the days are fading to night
But you'll be all right I know it

'Cause now I've got an angel watching me
This was your time, you went away
It seems the days are fading to night
But you'll be all right I know it
'Cause now I've got an angel watching me

Give me faith, give me hope in this life
We're just here for a little while
No goodbyes, wipe the tears from your eyes
See the sun from the other side
I know you'll be fine
I'll see you 'round some time
