Images of valance, coming' from the news man on the TV screen, I can't feel anything, know what I mean, Is there any thing anyone can really do, I feel so helpless, how about you, Just when I start to lose my faith in this world, something stirs inside of me, I look in the eyes, of an incent child, and it keeps my spirit alive,

Chorus:

Open up your heart lend a helping hand, have a little faith in your fellow man, cause every single soul has a purpose here, try and free your mind it will all come clear that every little thing that you say and do, can help to make a change if you want it to, can't ever have a tree if you don't plant a seed, all things are possible just believe

Got to know who you are, if you don't stand for something you'll fall for anything we make are choices, you know what I mean, cause a t any time any were temptation breaths, it waits for times when the soul is weak, Just when I start to lose my faith in this world, something stirs inside of me, I look in the eyes, of an incent child, and it keeps my spirit alive

It's got to start here with me , I'm making a change , a change to be, stronger than I've, been before got to let hate out this door, got to give faith, another try, got to be thankful for this life, everyday's a blessing can't ignore, I got to believe with all my heart.
