Susan moved up to Rochester
She can't stand the crack anymore
She's clean and sober now and she just glows
Her mom lives there, there's an Ashram Trees and open space
It suits her very well and man it shows

Yeah we went on up to South Fallsburg for some spiritual comforting
And I felt like a million dollars something that money
just can't bring Yeah her eyes are filled with diamonds and everybody knows her name
Guru my my my my my my baby
Everybody loves you, everybody loves you

Yeah we went on up to South Fallsburg for some
spiritual comforting

And I felt like a million dollars something that money
just can't bring Yeah her eyes are mesmerizing, everybody knows her name
Guru my my my my my my baby
Everybody needs you, everybody needs you

Guru Mi went back to India, Susan waits for her return She got a good job in New York City and she lives in the Ashram
Her eyes are filled with wonder Well that's her main concern Found out she's going to India after all
Everybody needs you (everybody needs you)
Everybody needs you (everybody needs you)
