When she's walking down the street, she might not even catch your eye
She don't talk much maybe she's simple, maybe she's just shy
When the lights go down and the band begins to play Her soul drinks up the sound and her body begins to sway, yeah yeah

When she dances
She's like the wind in the long tall grass
When she dances
She's got so much soul
She can make you forget everything you're thinking of
She can make you fall in love
When she dances

Ooh, When she dances
Ooh, When she dances

She's the one who lives up the road, her daddy's walking on the line She's here most every night, to hear the music and pass the time
All night long she never stops, the time goes by like she's in a dream
And all the guys just sit and watch, 'cause she's the finest thing they've ever seen And right now she's as young, and she's as free as anything in this world could ever be

When she dances
She's like the wind in the long tall grass
When she dances
She's got so much soul
She can make you forget everything you're thinking of
She can make you fall in love
When she dances

When she dances
She's like the wind in the long tall grass
When she dances
She's got so much soul

She can make you forget everything you're thinking of
She can make you fall in love
When she dances
