One of those times, when the truth comes out
And the only thing I was sure of now I doubt
One of those moments, when it all comes clear
When I feel the emptynes when you're not here
You made yourself a new life
Do you ever think of me?

I can see you look so good
I'd take you right now if I could
I would'nt be here missing you so bad
If I'd only know just what I had

Seem to me, things were going well
Just how wrong I was is hard to tell
You didn't hear, for far too long
What you needed me to say, and now you're gone
Here I am a stranger
In a world I have my norm

I can see you look so good
I'd take you right now if I could
I would'nt be here missing you so bad
If I'd only know just what I had

Standing here, watching you
Wondering what I have to do
Oh, just to get close to you
Look at her I see no pain
She is learning how to smile again
Oh, puts my memorie to change
Find yourself a new life
Do you ever think of me?

I can see you look so good
I'd take you right now if I could
Just to feel you touch, I must be mad
I wished that I had read the sign
Maybe tried to change your mind
I would'nt be here missing you so bad
If I'd only know just what I had

Just what I had

Just what I had

Just what I had
