Call it an emergency
Somewhere else I got to be
Tired talking to myself
I guess Iâ€™ve got a lot of nerve
Walking back into your world
Knowing it will cause a scene
Thereâ€™s no way I can let it be

Things have been falling apart
Things have been falling apart
I did what I could to keep it together
But things have been falling apart
Since I broke her heart

Call it an emergency
Someone I forgot to be
Things are getting critical
I guess I've got a lot of faith
Come around and show my face
Reminding you of what I am
It could never be the same again

Things have been falling apart
Things have been falling apart
I did what I could to keep it together
But things have been falling apart
Ever since I broke her heart
Things have been falling apart
I did what I could to keep it together
But things have been falling apart
Since I broke her heart

Reminding you of what I am
Reminding
