You were the highlight
Of my evenings
You brought a smile
To every face

And now you're building
Some kind of wall
And I'm not welcome anymore

You were my weekends
And my workingdays
You were my brightlight
My darkest nights

And now you're building
Some kind of wall
And I'm not welcome anymore

Reacing out to someone
You go all way
Such a long way
When the arguments is over
Don't let the sorrow
Lead the way

You were my sense
And my reward
You were my good
My big mistake

Cause now you're building
Some kind of wall
And I'm not welcome anymore
Anymore
