You found my heart
you saw right through you changed my life
and that's why I love you

I used to live in a world that no one knew you brought me home
and that's why I love you

Tell me how did you know how could you see
You were the one for me
with everything gone
I was just holding on when you pulled me through
and that's why I love you

I live for you with every breath I breathe that's all I need for as long as you're with me

Tell me how did you know
how could you see

and that's why I love you don't mean to be so sentimental so emotional but you're the dream I never dared to dream oh, I am holding on so strong yeah, yeah

Tell me how did you know
how could you see
when you came along

and that's why I love you

You found my heart
