"Alone"

Rainy morning and I look into your eyes
See the wonder you're an angel in disguise
Windy evening and you tell me all your lies
Tears are falling and the love within me dies

Without a fear I have to turn around and run
Your crazy world will still be spinning when I'm gone
I realize I feel like breathing on my own
But I want to be alone, I want to be alone
I want to be alone, I want to be alone

Winter coming, the flowers are dying
Snow is falling, the angels are crying

Without a fear I have to turn around and run
Your crazy world will still be spinning when I'm gone
I realize I feel like breathing on my own
But I want to be alone, I want to be alone
I want to be alone, I want to be alone

Crazy world will still be spinning when I'm gone
I feel like all the color's going out
Without a fear I have to turn around and run
Nobody knows what this is all about

Without a fear I have to turn around and run
Your crazy world will still be spinning when I'm gone
I realize I feel like breathing on my own
But I want to be alone

Without a fear I have to turn around and run
Your crazy world will still be spinning when I'm gone
I realize I feel like breathing on my own
But I want to be alone
