People take a look around, all the leaves are turnin' brown
I never saw the ground so cracked and dry Down the road a little ways the forest has been set ablaze
See the smoke risin' in the sky

People don't understand, some folks never give a damn
Soon they're gonna find it's in bigger hands than yours
and mine

Rains came and brought the flood, the rivers have all turned to mud
Everything in town has washed away Folks stood on the hill and cried, thankful just to be alive
Most of them with nothin' left to save

People don't understand, some folks never give a
damn
Soon we're gonna find it's in bigger hands than yours
and mine

The truth remains a mystery, it's been that way through history
It seems that we could find a safe solution Poison's buried underground, toxins seep out all around Got to put an end to this pollution

People don't you understand? Some folks never give a damn
Soon they're gonna find it's in bigger hands than yours
and mine
Soon we're gonna find it's in bigger hands than yours
and mine

Open your heart and soul to the Creator, be thankful for everyday
Take from the earth only what is needed and nothin'
