You said, "Don't come around knocking on my door" *
I said, "I've had enough, I won't be back no more"
* But here I am, I'm back again, just like the same old fool * It's like I'm hooked, caught in a trap, can't get away from you * And ev'ry night this empty bed reminds me * I toss and turn and can't sleep the whole night through * And early in the morning always finds me with you on my mind;
can't get away from you * Honey, please consider me and take me back again * I want your love, I need it bad, a honey let me in * And ev'ry night this empty bed reminds me * I toss and turn and can't sleep the whole night through * And early in
can't get away from you.
