I am bending these spoons in the back room you know i do my best to make you proud shifting in my shell, i've been better but oh well it's easy to get lost into this crowd oh, i'm not naive, no sir i have it all under control i collect all my confusions and illusions with a grin i never said that two halves make a whole don't worry your pretty head just count your sheep and go to bed

caught up by the fast approaching dawn prying open eyelids of the dead i am feeling able to move on in the absence of the revery i have made

don't worry, don't worry, don't worry, don't worry, your head, your head, your head just count your sheep, just count your sheep, just count your sheep and go to bed, go to bed
