Was it you was it me and i don't know
Were we holding one when we should've let go?
You will always danc in my eyes

But there's something I gotta say
Before you walk away, this time

I owe it all to you
Cause you showed me a world I could never see
Now I know the truth
You were always right in front of me
And there's nothing to hold me back now
Nothing I can't go through
I owe it all to you

Did you know I was longing to fly?
When you held my hand and you told me dont cry
I never thought I'd hear this good bye

But theres something I got to say
Before you turn away tonight

I owe it all to you
Cause you showed me a world I could never see
Now I know the truth
You were always right in front of me
And there's nothing to hold me back now
Nothing I can't go through
I owe it all to you

How come the damage is done?
The feeling is gone and we can't escape it?
Right now I shout it out loud
The change is so strong but I have to break it

I got to run
I'm holding on
But I'm always grateful to you!
I owe it all to you

I owe it all to you

I owe it all to you
Cause you showed me a world I could never see
Now I know the truth
You were always right in front of me
And there's nothing to hold me back now
Nothing I can't go through
I owe it all to you

I owe it all to you
