There could never be another you for me
There could never be another love so sweet And the world disappears every time that you're near You're as far as my eyes can see the light of your precious love blinds me
And you dance through my dreams you're the reason my heart beats
You're as far as my eyes can see Never thought I'd fall give my heart risk it all Never thought I'd say these words today
Now until the end of time my love is on the line You're as far as my eyes...
You're as far as my eyes can see you're as far as my eyes can see
