Hard working people from another land
Looking for a little more
Coming to this country for a helping hand
You know they sail their ships upon these shores

And they are lookin' for a freedom
That most of us don't appreciate
But you know, man, we can't let them in
'Cause the government's full of racial hate

And then they go the nerve to say
They be takin' our culture away
Even though our ancestors tried
To do the same to the aborigine

Seems strange to me, man, strange to me
Don't it seem strange to you?
That a country founded on immigration
Is so damned racist too

And I say, home
Home is where the heart is
Yeah, home

And then they go the nerve to say
They be takin' our jobs away
Even though half the jobs
That we're working for are owned from overseas

And the other half of the companies
Yes, yes, that they say, that we rightly own
They operate on aisle three third world
That's right yeah, the sweat shop zone

And I say, I don't know what's going on
Don't know what the hell to say
The government decides on letting refugees in
And when they get here yes they are detained

And I don't know what's going on
Don't know the reason why
We live in an educated so called democracy

Where everybody decides to believe in lies
Believe in lies

Home is where the heart is, yeah
Home
