"Years After You"

I don't know if I can explain it
'cause there's really nothin' different at all.
The sun still burns,
the earth still turns
and the winter still follows the fall.
I knew that it wouldn't be easy for my heart to find somebody new but I never thought it still would be broken in two these years after you.

The tell me time is a natural healer it kind of smooths the pain away.
But this hurtin' within hasn't yet given in and it's been over two thousand days.
I still remember the taste of your kisses and your eyes that were beautifully blue and I can still hear the sound of your voice when you said we were through these years after you.

(Chorus)
Years after, years after you
I'm still cryin'
Tears after, years after you
I'm still tryin' to make it through these years after you.

There've been mornin's when I couldn't wake up There've been evenin's when I couldn't sleep
My life would be fine for months at a time then I'll break down and cry for a week.
'Cause when I told you I'd love you forever
I know you didn't think it was true but forever is nothin' compared to some nights I've been through in these years after you.

(Chorus)
Years after, years after you
I'm still cryin'
Tears after, years after you

I'm still tryin' to make it through these years after you.

Years after, years after you
I'm still cryin'
Tears after, years after you
I'm still tryin' to make it through
these years after you.

Years after, years after you
I'm still cryin'
Tears after, years after you
I'm still tryin' to make it through these years after you.
