I'll just keep on falling in love
Till I get it right
Right now I'm like a wounded bird
Hungry for the sky

But if I find my wings and try hard enough
I'm bound to learn to fly
So I'll just keep on falling in love
Till I get it right

My door to love has opened out
More times than in
I'm either fool or wise enough
To open it again

But I'll never know what's beyond the mountain
Till I reach the other side
So I'll just keep on falling in love
Till I get it right

If practice makes perfect then I'm near about as perfect
As I'll ever be in my life
So I'll just keep on falling in love
Till I get it right
