I thought we would always be together;
Never be apart.
You said that our love was made in heaven;
And you'd never break my heart.

But it got hard along the way
and our love began to stray
Now I'm standing here alone with nothing left to say, but...

Chorus:
Where, where does our love go from here?
Which road to we follow to find our way clear?
Where does our love go from here?
When will we finally find our way home?
And where does our love go, oh, from here.

Days gone by can never be recovered.
Now they all are yesterdays.
But the love we shared can be rediscovered
like a treasure cast away.

But the things we take for granted
sometimes disappear
And the moment that they're gone,
you start wishing they were here.

(Repeat Chorus)
