In the light of the dashboard
Something flickers then dies
The last cigarette 'til the next town

I'm driving through dreamland
Strange and familiar
And the rain is coming down

Head's down low, moving so slow
And I really don't know why I feel so alive
When I look in your eyes

It's over my head, night makes a burning sky
(Over my head)
Voices are calling
(Over my head)
Angels will beat their wings
God only knows why it all goes right over my head

Send me away to think about it
I've driven two thousand miles or more
And the rain keeps on coming down

Head's down low, moving so slow
And I really don't know why I feel so alive
When I look in your eyes

It's over my head, night makes a burning sky
(Over my head)
Voices are calling
Over my head, angels will beat their wings
God only knows why it all goes right over my head

And the singer says, "You're just marking time"
And the DJ says, "It's your love on the line"
Calling your name

It's over my head, night makes a burning sky
(Over my head)
Voices are calling
(Over my head)
Angels will beat their wings

God only knows why it all goes

(Over my head)
Night makes a burning sky
(Over my head)
Voices are calling
(Over my head)
Angels will beat their wings
God only knows why it all goes

(Over my head)
Over my head
(Over my head)
It's over my head
(Over my head)
Over my head
God only knows why it all goes

(Over my head)
Night makes a burning sky
(Over my head)
Voices are calling
(Over my head)
Angels will beat their wings
God only knows why it all goes

(Over my head)
Over my head
Over my head
Over my head
God only knows why it all goes

Over my head
Over my head
Over my head
