"My Wild Love"

My wild love is a love that goes deeper each day
My wild dream is a dream of the sea
My whole life, I feel is turning away
From the man I thought I would be
For my wild love, my wild love....
Walking, I've been walking
As the moon rose on the waves
Remembering how things used to be
Before everything was changed
I see your face in stained glass windows
I touch your heart, it's the heart of the sea
You come to meet me through millions of sunsets
No-one else would ever believe in my wild love
My wild love....
