(Cow Moo)

It's been said, keep your head my therapy is a wooden shed gave an inch and you took my yard now the mowing is twice as hard I guess that's o.k. but next time just stay away true I'm selfish they'll not bother me don't know where I keep my favorite tree this is my day here ask when it's not so clear call me when the lines are down I won't be around never took a second look find the trail that leads to the hollow nook double back back on track stack my apples in a weathered sack I'll come across it if it crosses my mind I'll come across it should I try to find keep the pace but end the race no more starch and a lot more space tell me your coming that makes two run and hide away from you never knew your needs required constant I.V.
constant me
constant I.V.
I'm not your food, your food for thought can barely feed myself what is lost can be regained just look high, high on the shelf one, one at a time and we roll along
oooohhh whoooooo and we roll along

oooohhh whoooooo and its on and on yodeleheeohh
