Extra time when you think it's all over
Live a life when you've rolled over and died
I don't feel pain, I don't travel this line

Levitate and feel the ground get closer
Ecstasy made every step a mile
When it becomes waste
Why hold on for dear life?

Wide pain
In the blue white break up
All paths divide
Life has a way of openin' up

All names travel with their owner
Though they've no space
They move all around
I see invisible movement in every town

Every cry is a separate emotion
Happenings are planned
And then they arrive
They go on with or without you there

Wide pain
In the blue white break up
All paths divide
Life has a way of openin' up

Wide pain
In the blue white break up
All paths divide
Life has a way of openin' up
