Baby can you teach me, how to
Baby can you reach me, I'm calling out for you
Underneath your window in tonight
I know I ain't no Romeo, so help me get it right

If I could got this message through to your heart
It would be more than I could understand
No beginner ever skipped the start
And I want to learn all that I possibly can

Because I don't know much
I don't know much, much about love
Out of touch
I don't know much, much about love

Baby when you kiss me, will I see
That little wish list you've been keeping for me
Rushing like a fool, babe, 'cause I know
They taught you this in school, you must have made the honor roll

If I could got this message through to your heart
It would be more than I could understand
No beginner ever skipped the start
And I want to learn all that I possibly can

Because I don't know much
I don't know much, much about love
Out of touch
I don't know much, much about love

I graduated, yes, I can read
The pages of the heart come difficult for me
I speak my mind girl, everyday
The language of love, well, it's difficult to say

If I could got this message through to your heart
It would be more than I could understand
No beginner ever skipped the start
And I want to learn all that I possibly can

Because I don't know much

I don't know much, much about love
Out of touch
I don't know much, much about love

I don't know much
I don't know much, much about love
Out of touch
I don't know much, much about love

I don't know much, much about love
I don't know much, much about love
