It ain't like I'm so tough, you shook me
To the heart, you shook me sure enough
Turned my whole world upside down
I tried to run away but I just ran aground

On the rock of your love, on the stone hard truth
On the rock of your love, I found my living proof

You pierced through armor plated steel
You tore into my soul and forced me to be real
I feel the strength of 20 men when I am
In your arms, I smash those fears again

On the rock of your love, on the stone hard truth
On the rock of your love, I found my living proof

I'm crashing like a wave tonight upon your distant shore
I have found the solid ground that I've been looking for

On the rock of your love, on the stone hard truth
On the rock of your love, I found my living proof
On the rock of your love, I found my living proof
