

John Hiatt "Something Broken"

Visit "Something Broken" on MotoLyrics.com

There's something broken in my heart
Oh, it was nothing you've done
There's something broken in my heart
I guess that's just the way it comes

There's something broken in my heart
Something I just can't fix
There's something broken
There's something broken in my heart

I've tried every powder and every pill
To put it back together somehow
Rode high with the fool up on the hill
Come down with the draft horse and a plow

I've been to the land of milk and honey
And honey I'm broke down now
There's something broken
Something broken in my heart

I'm gonna go downtown tonight and find me a woman
And try to keep those jagged edges from my mind
And if I don't start a fight I'll just keep running
'Til I break on through into the morning light

There's something broken in my heart
Oh, it was nothing you've done
There's something broken in my heart
I know I'm not the only one

There's something broken in my heart
Something I just can't fix
There's something broken
Something broken in my heart
Oh, there's something broken
Something broken in my heart

Visit John Hiatt page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.