You were a tiny spark
Caught in your parents' eyes
When they made love in the dark
But you were the big surprise

And the old man came through
Gave his very best for you
And your mother's arms, they kept you warm
Like no other arms would do

When you couldn't find the light
At the top of the stairs
When you cried in the night
You knew they were there
Till the light of the day
Was as bright as it seemed
And you knew in your heart
You were livin' the rest of the dream

Well, I had a dream of you
But I never realized
Baby, the dream was true
And that's when you opened my eyes

And I will come through
Do my very best for you
And your lovin' arms gonna keep me warm
Like no other arms will do

When you can't find the light
At the top of the stairs
When you cry in the night
You know I'll be there
Till the light of the day
Is as bright as it seems
And you know in your heart
You're livin' the rest of the dream

Now I see a tiny spark
Caught in your lovin' eyes
And as we make love in the dark
And wait for the big surprise

And the old man will come through
Son or daughter just for you
And your mama's arms gonna keep you warm
Like no other arms can do
And you know that is true

When you can't find the light
At the top of the stairs
When you cry in the night
You know I'll be there
Till the light of the day
Is as bright as it seems
We're livin' the rest of the dream

When you can't find the light
Well you know I'll be there
Is as bright as it seems

You know I'll be there
Is as bright as it seems

When you can't find the light
You know I'll be there
Is as bright as it seems
And you know in your heart
