I looked for light, I looked for revelation Nothing was there, I felt so out of place and
Out in the dark and running out of patience
I searched and searched and nothing seemed to make sense

You came to me, you blew away the memory
In the middle of the night when I was sleeping
You spoke to me and said I wasn't dreaming
You are the realest thing that I've seen now

And now I look to the future, I look to you
And I see visions of you

Days gone by in black and white 'til you saved me from
the night
I never knew what I had missed
I never been in love like this
In high definition, technicolor vision
I never knew what I had missed
I never been in love like this

Suddenly I see, open my eyes (suddenly)
She works me out, she uses every piece of me
She turns me up with always such intensity
I feel the way, her passion washing over me

Out of the shadow in, I'm falling in deep

And now I look to the future, I look to you
And I see visions of you

Days gone by in black and white 'til you saved me from
the night
I never knew what I had missed
I never been in love like this
In high definition, technicolor vision
I never knew what I had missed
I never been in love like this

Suddenly love finally (?)
Suddenly everything's clear to me (suddenly)

Oh oh oh, suddenly (Yeah)

Days gone by,
Days gone by in black and white 'til you saved me from
the night
I never knew what I had missed
I never been in love like this
In high definition, technicolor vision
I never knew what I had missed
I never been in love like this

Suddenly I see (suddenly I)
Open my eyes (suddenly)
Suddenly I see, suddenly..
