"You Reap Just What You Sow"

Oh, I know it hurts
Yeah, I know it hurts
When your brand new love up and does you dirt,
Baby, don't you know
Baby, don't you know
You reap just what you sow.
Now you know how I
Felt when you said goodbye
Now you find that it's your time to sit and cry
Told you long ago
You'd learn it as you go
You reap just what you sow.
You made me sad, you hurt me bad
You broke my heart in two
And sure enough the same old stuff
Is happening to you
I can sympathize
With the tears that's in your eyes
But I'm gonna have to say, "I told you so"
Told you long ago
When you let me go
You reap just what you sow.
