Too much confusion these days
Between a no and a yes who knows?
Now which side of the fence
Is best who knows
These confusion days
Confusion...
Now where the riddle will rest
See it leads me, to apathy
The thing that I detest
Try, try to undo these problems
You see those problems, and faults in you
I know the'yre there, I got them too
Or should I say no
Or should I just let go
Or should I say yes, which ever is best
Too much confusion
These days, these days
Should I say no, should I let I'd go
Should I say yes, whichever is best
Confusion...
Now it leads me to patahy
The thing that I detest
But I try, try try, to undo
You see those problems, and faults in you
I know the'yre there, I got them too
And should I say no
Or should I just let go
And should I say yes, which ever is best
Which answer is best between a no and a yes
Which riddle will rest
Now let go, lets go
Should I just let it rest
These days, let it rest
