

John Mayall"I Thought I Heard the Devil"

Visit "I Thought I Heard the Devil" on MotoLyrics.com

I thought I heard the Devil,
He was talkin' in my ear,
He said you got no worries,
As long as I am here,
You know you are my buddy,
We go back a long, long way,
You got no problems if you do the things I say,
I said,

I don't think that would be so smart,
I know you want to tear my soul apart,
You wanna tear it all apart.

I thought I saw the devil,
He was standing at the bar,
He was sipping on some whiskey,
He was smoking a cigar,
He said I know some ladies,
And I brought them just for you,
They're more than willing to do what you want to do,
I said,

I don't think that would be so smart,
I know you want to tear my soul apart,
You wanna tear it all apart.

I saw the devil,
He was walkin' next to me,
He said I'm here to help you,
Be all that you can be,
I'll take away your pain,
and help you make it through the night,
Put your trust in me,
I'll make everything alright,
I said,

I don't think that would be so smart,
I know you want to tear my soul apart,
You wanna tear it all apart.

