Last night in my room, I tossed and turned all night
Hoping to get another chance, to make everything alright.
You see life is so precious, we rarely say the things that we should
So much more to it, that I never understood.

If I don't get home
Would you know how I feel?
Would you know my love's for real?
If I don't get home

Early this morning, when I said good-bye to you.
I had the strangest feeling, I thought I'd seen the last of you.
Headin' down the runway getting ready to take flight
The biggest fear came over me, I thought I hadn't simply tried.

If I don't get home
Would you know how I feel?
Would you know my loves for real?
Oh baby, If I don't get home
Would you know, would you know how I feel?
No no... Oh baby...
If I don't get home
