Sarah's friend, she lost her mind
She left him and made it look sexy now
I fear you won't be far behind
Thinking I'll be the next to leave

I know I might be anxious
But I'm still not crazy
And i don't need another kind of green to know
I'm on the right side with you

I used to be the one you saw
When crying along to sad songs
But then we go and we hit the wall
Where nothing is changed and nothing is wrong

You not the perfect hand but
I don't hit on 19
And i don't need another kind of green to know
I'm on the right side
I'm on the right side with you
With you

So go and drift away from here
Adopt some new philosophy
It doesn't hold the two of us in line
Move into someone else's place
Stare into some other's eyes
But slowly only come to realize

That you didn't need another kind of green to know
I'm on the right side
Your on the right side
I'm on the right side with you
Oh, always on the right side
You don't need to lose to know that you had it good
You don't need to lose it to know that you had it good
No, no
You don't need to lose it to know that you had it
Know that you had it, know that you had it
Don't need to lose it to know that you had it
Good
