

John Mellencamp

"Now More Than Ever"

Visit "Now More Than Ever" on MotoLyrics.com

If you believe, won't you please raise your hands?
Let's hear your voices, let us know where you stand
Don't shout from the shadows 'cause it won't mean a damn
Now more than ever

Now more than ever, the world needs love
Not just a slogan but the world needs love
Now more than ever, I can't stand alone
Now more than ever

If I was to buy you a diamond ring
Make you my princess would it mean anything
Would you take me for granted and just curse my name
Now more than ever

Now more than ever the world needs love
Not just a slogan but the world needs love
Now more than ever I can't stand alone
Now more than ever

Who am I to say? What needs to be done?
I'm just nobody another lost one
Caught between what's left, what needs to be done
Now more than ever

The loss of love, now more than ever
The loss of our dreams, now more than ever
It's not too late

Now more than ever the world needs love
Not just a slogan but the world needs love
Now more than ever I can't stand alone
Now more than ever

Now more than ever the world needs love
Not just a slogan but the world needs love
Now more than ever I can't stand alone
Now more than ever

