From the "Running Man" soundtrack]
This is no game, standing in the dark, I swear I heard you calling my name
And I knew things had changed
No pain no gain Something in your eyes just told me that this nightmare would end
And I had found a friend Shout it from the highest steeple, let it out to all the people
Play it on the loudest speaker, burnin' like the highest fever
You hit the right spot
Chorus:
No more lonely nights, with a restless heart Roll the dice, make a brand new start When the world you knew got shattered, you and me were all that mattered Just one way I'm gonna lose this restless heart, running away with you Human again, I take you in my arms and hold you 'till the fear is all gone
And now the race is won Shout it from the highest steeple, let it out to all the
Scream it on the loudest speaker, burnin' like the highest fever
You hit the right spot
(chorus)
(Solo)
There's a new horizon that we're both heading to It's out there in the distance, and it's playin' our tune, runnin' away
(chorus to fade)
