this is no game
standing in the dark i swear i heard you calling my name and now that things have changed no pain no gain something in your eyes just told me that this nightmare would end and i have found a friend shouting from the highest steeple let it out to all the people playing on the loudest speaker burning like the highest fever

you hit the right spot

no more lonely nights
with a restless heart
roll the dice
make a brand new start
read the words and you got shattered you and me were old and battered just one way im going to lose this restless heart running away with you

human again ill take you in my arms and hold you till the fear is over and now the race is won

screaming on the loudest speaker

theres a new horizon that we're both headin to its out there in the distance and its playing out to running away
