

John Parr "She's Gonna Love You To Death"

Visit "She's Gonna Love You To Death" on MotoLyrics.com

I don't wanna be the reckless one, the man with the gun
I don't wanna be the reckless one I had it, I lost control, the chance I'd hungered for, out the door
Heard it on the peacetime radio, the ratings were low
I heard it on the peacetime radio Now it was just the same old song, with all those same old lines
Wasn't mine, wasn't mine, ooh
Chorus:
Somebody stole my thunder, left me to die in the wind
and rain
Somebody stole my thunder again
Look at the strain I'm under, devil may care, it's a loser's game
Somebody stole my thunder again Caught him down in Soho, layin' tracks, the knife in my back
His stealin' days are numbered, that's a fact I stuck it to him face to face, but he just turned and laughed Laughed his last, he's the past, ooh
(chorus)
People dancing everywhere, never knowing, never care Diggin' all that rock 'n roll, they don't care whose song he stole Somebody stole my thunder, left me to die in the wind
and rain
Somebody stole my thunder again
I left him six feet under, the devil may care, it's the price he paid
He'll never steal my thunder again
Somebody stole my thunder, left me to die in the wind
and rain
Somebody stole my thunder again
I left him six feet under, left him to die in the fallin' rain Somebody stole my thunder again... (to fade)

Visit John Parr page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

