

John Ralston

"Love / Exit"

Visit "Love / Exit" on MotoLyrics.com

When you think you feel loved you need an exit
Want to shove it all back with indiscretion
Want to shallow it down and shoot it right out
Want to rearrange us both with paste and white-out

And now you're shouting in my face
You say I'm such a fool to care anyway

I wish I could say you were my first lesson
Wish I could stay in your school another session
Wish you could teach me to never love anyone
But I just can't get it straight so I must be dumb

Because now you're shouting in my face
You say I'm such a fool to care anyway

Someday you might find that you can't be this mean
And you'll have to unlearn the person you've been Tomorrow I'm gonna find a girl who believes in love
Someone beautiful and with more sympathy

There's nothing behind your eyes
And you need a drink
And you say you want it straight
But you'll take anything
Anything

So I wish you the worse I can wish you
That's not true but it feels good to say so

Because you're shouting in my face
You say I'm such a fool to care anyway

Visit John Ralston page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.